

Specification/Data sheet

Externally pluggable USB core temperature probe tabletop unit

Article number: 60.76.317

Description

The external core temperature probe has six measuring points and can be used as a replacement for the internal core temperature probe of an iCombi Pro or iCombi Classic.

Features

- USB connection box with 6-point core temperature probe and USB cable with waterproof special plug for use in tabletop units
- Holder for the safe storage of the core temperature probe when not in use (is also part of the extension set art. no. 60.76.876)
- Magnet holder for the USB connection box (is also part of the extension set art. no. 60.76.876)

Technical specifications

- Connection: Special plug for USB socket, waterproof
- Length of USB connection cable: 1250 mm
- Length of core temperature probe cable: 1000 mm
- Dimensions magnet holder: 266 x 52 x 10 mm
- Dimensions core temperature probe holder: 267 x 73 x 31 mm
- Weight: 1.1 kg

Material

- USB connection box: Plastic PA6 Durethan
- Holder for the core temperature probes: Stainless steel
- Magnet holder for the connection box: Stainless steel
- Core temperature probes: Stainless steel

Note

- The externally pluggable core temperature probe with USB connection box can only be used in conjunction with an iCombi Pro (except model XS 6-2/3) or iCombi Classic.
- Can be ordered additionally: Extension set for safe and hygienic installation and flexible use of a USB core temperature sensor on another iCombi cooking system, art. no. 60.76.876